A Farmer Worth $2,000 a Day Income.

PETERGUM CENTER, Pa., Nov. 18.—It may be interesting to many who invested in oil stock and oil territory to know of a farm recently developed in the heart of the oil region of Pennsylvania, which has, during the past five months, yielded such large quantities of oil as to almost revive among producers and operators an excitement like that of 1863-4.

On the east side of Petroleum Center—a town that was well named, as really proving to be the center of the oil region—lies a ridge of hills, on whose top is a farm of 160 acres, owned by Mr. James McCray. While the Coquett well was flowing 1,000 barrels a day at the foot of these hills, the Empire and Noble, each yielding equally large quantities, surrounded by the Benneholle, the Stevenon, the Blood, Story and Tarr farms, Mr. McCray was operating with small leases of oil lands, and, by industry and perseverance, accumulated $75,000 in blissful ignorance of the streams of wealth lying beneath the bay and oats he had been continually on his own farm. But until last April, when Mr. Jonathan Watson drilled a well, which proved a success, pumping 400 barrels per day, except in an agricultural view the McCray farm was but little known; but this well of Mr. Watson's in these days, when oil barrels are considered a great profit, gave an importance to this property, attracting crowds to obtain leases, and has given to the fortunate owner an income which is now nearly $7,000 a day—a revenue for a prince—which must, if it continues a year longer or more (as now seems probable), make him one of the wealthiest capitalists in Pennsylvania.

A recent visit to this locality gives the confidence of an eye witness.

There are about thirty wells pumping from 30 to 300 barrels a day each. The experience, natural shrewdness and business tact of Mr. McCray are proved by the leases he has given—demanding half the oil as royalty, and in some instances receiving $1,000 and $1,500 an acre hours besides.

Common Sense about Railroad Legislation.

From the Rochester Post, 26th.

Now that election is over and there are no more offices to be had till next fall, we suppose we can be allowed to exercise some common sense, and express some candid opinions on this subject of railroad regulation, without endangering the chances of any candidate.

We have the opinion that the necessary anti railroad legislation could not be forced through in a single session of the Legislature, but that the people have entered upon a long and tedious struggle for their rights, to be ended only after the enactment and re-enactment of laws, and their trial in the courts, perhaps even to the Supreme Court of the United States; but we should be most happily disappointed to see the whole matter fixed up and settled in favor of the people by this next session of the Legislature, and there can be no doubt that the people of this county demand the utmost exertion to that end of all their members of the Legislature, of both parties.

The Emigration Convention.

The Indianapolis Emigration Convention adjourned on Wednesday evening. The proceedings were inharmonious and of little interest. Reports affirm, what will be readily believed, that the convention was composed mainly of radicals having been appointed by the governors of radical States.

It has been run in the interest of the radical party. A series of resolutions were adopted, the leading features of which were a prohibition of the head tax collected in New York and Boston, and in favor of the establishment of a federal bureau of emigration. The New York delegates withdrew from the convention, on account of a bitter assault made by a delegate from Nebraska, and apparently sustained by the convention, in which he charged that the democracy obtained their large majority in New York city by corruption, like those of Castle Garden. The main idea of the convention was peculiarly radical, that of concentrating the emigration business in the hands of the federal government, and of providing fat offices for the corruptors who make that business a means of livelihood.

Scientific men have recently discovered that the poison taken in the system from continued smoking of tobacco will cause death in one hundred and sixty-seven years.

WAR IN EUROPE.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A World correspondent writes from Versailles: The military situation this morning is very critical. The advance guard of the Duke of Mecklenburg is at Centerey, thirteen miles from Le Mans. The French, under General Pierick, occupy Le Mans. Keraray's army is entrenched at Camp Coule, fifteen miles northwest from Le Mans. Another portion of the Duke of Mecklenburg's army is moving from Dreux to Chartres, and have reached Mamers, on the north bank of the Seneule, twenty miles northwest of Coule. The German forces from Conners, 5,500 strong, under General Vandartan, yesterday, in advancing in the direction of Pithiviers, have entrenched position of artillery, when a serious engagement followed, the result of which has not been ascertained.

A telegram dated Tours, 25th, says that rumors are afoot in that city that a great sortie from Paris was effected on the 24th, and that fighting was going on at Mortages.

Bourbaki says he has formed one army and has been deprived of its command, and will not submit twice to this usage. He wants active service—no more organization than work.

VERSAILLES, Nov. 26.—Thousands of citizens of the suburbs of Paris, while gathering crops lately, have approached so closely to the Prussian lines that the Prussians were compelled to fire on them to drive them off.

The weather is cold and disagreeable, and military operations next to impossible at present.

In reconnoitering near Orleans yesterday, the tenth Prussian corps encountered the twentieth French corps under General Paladine's command.

An engagement ensued, in which the French were driven from a strong position at Ladon.

Subsequently several French companies attacked the Prussian corps, but were repelled with a loss of forty French.

A General was taken prisoner by the Prussians.

REURNED.—Messrs. Robbins & Wilkins, who some two months ago, left this place with a number of teams for the Northern Pacific, returned last Monday, with teams looking much the worse for their trip and labor. We understand work upon that line, not very profitable at the high rate of feed and board. Chas. Anderson of Carver is still there at work.

PERSONAL.—Mr. C. P. Barnard, of St. Paul, Assessor of Revenue, for this Division, made our village a business call on Tuesday. Mr. B. is a gentleman in every respect, and left a very good impression upon our citizens.

Dr. S. J. Northrop, of Jordan, made us a very pleasant and agreeable call on Tuesday. The Dr. informs us that he has considerable practice in the upper towns of this county.

JACOB BYHOFFER returned home last Monday from St. Paul, where he has been at work at his trade.

COL. BAXTER, visited Henderson on professional business during the week.

THE WEATHER.—The most remarkable fall record, is the exclamation of most every old settler you meet, and it is literally true. It has been an unusual "Indian Summer" for the last six weeks. At present the weather indicates a change, and probably for cold weather.

SAUSAGE SUPPER.—We were invited last Thursday evening by Mr. Thomas Schutz, to partake of a sausage supper at his hotel, which, of course we accepted. We can assure our friends that the supper was a rich treat in every particular. We return our thanks to Mr. Schutz and lady for the part we took in disposing of the worst.

BOOTS & SHOES.—Frank Eisele has added a very neat assortment of boots and shoes to his establishment, and expects a share of the custom of Chaska and vicinity. We cordially recommend Mr. Eisele to our readers and bespeak for him a share of the business.

TOWN PUMP.—Chaska has at last a town pump. It was erected by Peter Iltis of the National Hotel and is a great convenience to the public. It is directly in front of his hotel.

SCHOOLS.—County Superintendent Du Toit, will, next week, commence visiting the public schools of the County. The winter schools are nearly all in operation. He has 57 districts to visit during the winter.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.—We publish, as required by law, the fall financial exhibit between the Auditor and Treasurers office. We commend the same to our readers interested in county affairs.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL.—The Concordia, hold their 3d annual festival next Sunday, as has been announced heretofore, and as the public are aware from posters displayed all over the village.

The German leases on the 27th and 28th were very busy.

THE WEATHER.—The weather for the last two weeks has been more like "Indian summer" than any thing else.

The river is entirely free from ice, and boats could run now as well as in Aug.

RAIL ROAD.—The grading on the line between Carver and the Iowen Co. line, Messrs. Bartlett, Rue & Ostlie and others having jobs on the road will complete their work this week. They have done a good job.

MARKET.—Saturday last was market day, stock was plenty, and sold very high. Milk cows sold from $45 to $70.—Working oxen from $125 to $170 per pair. It is estimated that $6000 worth of cattle was sold by our farmers to Minneapolis and St. Paul buyers, also about $2,500 worth of horses.

Business was of course good. The town was jammed with people. It was a success.

LIME HOUSE, &c.—Capt. Chas. Basler is building a new Lime and Ice house. The Capt. will soon have a town of his own if he keeps on building.

RETURNED.—J. O. Brunius, Esq., who has been up way country surveying for the Sioux City R. R. Company, returned home last week. He will remain home this winter.

FURNITURE.—John Snell has a good assortment of Furniture of all kinds.—Melodeons and Organs also for sale.—Mr. Snell is also running a Photographic Gallery, which is under the charge of John Lefford. If you want your "phiz" taken call on John.

PERSONAL.—Col. Baxter of Chaska was in town on Monday. Thus Mr. Snell was around attending the fair.

Wm. B. Mohler arrived home on Tuesday, and will remain about 2 weeks, when he will go South.

Peter Thompson, E. Holmes and Wm. Glitschka were in St. Paul last week.

UR.—Wheat reached 82 cts, one day last week, and dropped again to 80 cts. We hope it will soon come to $1.00.

PORK.—Pork has commenced to come into market quite freely during the last week, it brings from 6 to 7 cts. Sam Stevens, and Glitschka are the principal buyers.

THANKSGIVING.—Thanksgiving was duly observed by most of our citizens. Turkeys and chickens had to suffer.

MARRIED.—On Saturday evening Nov. 20th by Justice Chas. Johnson, Mr. John Habeisen to Miss. Sophie Sanberg.

We congratulate the happy couple and hope their path through life will always be pleasant, and that the "little blessings" resulting therefrom will be numerous.

TOYS.—Remember the place to buy your toys for the Holidays is at Geo. A. Du Toit's Drug Store, a full assortment

SURRETT'S CONFESSION.

Revelations of the Plot to Abduct President—First Acquaintance With John Wilkes Booth—The Flight to Canada.

John H. Surratt, one of the alleged conspirators in the plot which resulted in the assassination of President Lincoln, made what he claims is a full confession or statement, on the night of the 6th, in the shape of a lecture delivered at the Court-house at Rockville, Maryland, about twelve miles from Washington. After some preliminary remarks as to his experiences in court rooms and the cause of his appearing in the lecture field, which was frank enough to say was want of friends.

At the breaking out of the war I was a student at St. Charles College, in Maryland. I did not remain long there after the war, and, returning home, commenced to take an active part in the stirring events of that period. I was more than 18 years of age, and was mostly engaged in sending information regarding the movements of the United States troops in Washington and elsewhere, and carrying messages to the Confederate boats on the Potomac. We had a regular established line from Washington to the Potomac, and I being the only unmarried man on the route had most of the hard riding to do. (Laughter.) I devised various ways of getting my despatches. Sometimes in the hold of my buggy. I confess that never in my life did I come across a more stupid set of detectives than those generally employed by the United States Government. I had no idea how to no idea how to search men. In 1861 my family left Maryland and moved to Washington, where I took a more active part in the stirring events of the period. It seemed as if I could not do too much or run too great a risk. In the fall of 1864 I was apprehended, John Wilkes Booth, who I was given to understand wished to know something about the main avenue leading from Washington to the Potomac. We met several times, but as he seemed to be very reticent with regard to his purposes, and very anxious to get all the information out of me, I could not tell him anything at all. At last I said to him, "It is useless for you, Mr. Booth, to seek any information from me until I know who you are and what are your intentions." He hesitated some time, but finally said he would make known his views to me provided I would promise never to repeat it. You know as well as I that the efforts have been made to bring about that much desired exchange. Aside from the great suffering they are compelled to undergo, we are sadly in want of them as soldiers. We cannot spare one man, whereas the United States is willing to let their own soldiers remain in prison because she has no use of the men. I have a proposition to submit to you, which, I think, if we can carry out, will bring about the desired exchange." There was a long and ominous silence, and I last was compelled to break it, asking, "Well, sir, what is your proposition?" "Well, sir, what is your proposition?" "Well, sir, what is your proposition?"

He then drew his chair close to me, and in a whisper said, "It is to kidnap President Lincoln, and carry him off to Richmond." "Kidnap President Lincoln?" I confess that I stood aghast at the proposition, and looked upon it as a foolhardy undertaking to think of seizing Mr. Lincoln in the capital of the United States, surrounded by thousands of his soldiers, and carrying him off to Richmond, looked to me as a foolish idea. I told him as much. He went on to tell with what facility he could be seized in various places in and about Washington.

As I was in the habit of his various rides to and from the Soldiers' Home, his summer residence, I entered into minute details of the proposed capture, and even the various parts to be performed by the actors in the performance.

I was amazed, thunderstruck, and in fact might also say frightened, at the unusual gravity of the scheme. After two days' reflection I told him I was willing to try it. I believed it practicable at that time though I now regard it as a foolhardy undertaking.

I hope you will not blame me for going thus far. I honestly thought an exodus of prisoners could be brought about could have once obtained possession of Mr. Lincoln's person. And now reverse the case. What is the young man in the North with one spark of patriotism in his heart who would not have enthusiasm for the capture of Mr. Lincoln?

What is the accomplishment of that object? The assassination of Mr. Lincoln I never heard spoken of by any of the party. Never. (Sensation.) Upon one occasion, I remember, we had called a meeting in Washington for the purpose of discussing matters in general, as we had received word that the government had some plan in view. That there was a plot of some kind I had no doubt.

They had even commenced to build a stockade and gates on the navy yard bridge—gates opening towards the South, as though they expected danger from within, and not from without. At this meeting I explained the construction of the gates, and stated that I was confident the government had some plan of our movement, and that the best thing we could do would be to throw up the whole project. Every one seemed to coincide with my opinion except Booth, who set aside and abominated it. Arising at last and bringing his fist upon the table he said: "Well, gentlemen, I shall know what to do." Some hard words, and even threats, passed between him and some of the party. Four of us then arose, one saying, "If I understand you, you are in favor of something to do, then the capture of Mr. Lincoln I for one will bid you good-bye." Every one expressed the same opinion. We all arose and commenced putting our hats on.

Booth perceiving probably, that he had gone too far, asked pardon, saying that he had done too much champagne. After some difficulty, everything was amicably arranged, and we separated at 5 o'clock in the morning. Days, weeks, and months passed by without an opportunity presenting itself for us to attempt the capture. We seldom saw one another, owing to the fact that we were a company of some kind being concealed in Washington. We had all arrangements perfected in Washington for the purpose. Books were in readiness to carry us across the river. One day we received information that the President would visit the 6th, in the shape of a lecture delivered at the Court-house at Rockville, Maryland, about twelve miles from Washington. After some preliminary remarks as to his experiences in court rooms and the cause of his appearing in the lecture field, which was frank enough to say was want of friends.

At the breaking out of the war I was employed if I thought he could be trusted. Said I, "certainly he can; Weidman is a Southern man, and I always believed it until I had good reason to believe otherwise, because he had furnished information for the Confederate government, besides allowing me access to the government records after office hours. I have very little to say to Mr. Lincoln, I will say, but I do pronounce him a base-born perjurer, a murderer of the meanest kind. Give me a man who can strike his victim dead, but save me from a man who through perjury, will cause the death of an innocent person." (Applause.) Away with such a character. I leave him in the pit of my heart which he has dug for himself, to prey the lights of his guilty conscience. (Applause.) I telegraphed Booth thus:

J. W. B., in New York: If you are in New York, telegraph to John Harris.

The operator, after looking over it, said, "It is J. W. B." to which I replied "Yes." He evidently wanted the whole name, and had scarcely finished the telegraphing when a door right next the office, and opening on the street, was thrown open, and a man came in, saying, "Yes, there are three of us here, and I am one of them." John, Jim, Jim, Edwin, and J. Wilkes Booth. The whole truth flashed on me in an instant, and I said to myself, "My God, what have I done?" The dispatch was still lying before me, and I reached out my hand to it, but it was too late, and the door was closed. The town was between me and two o'clock in the afternoon.

It was our intention to seize the carriage, which was drawn by a splendid pair of horses, and to take one of our men mount the box and drive direct for Southern Maryland, via Bennington in the city, so that all the cavalry in the city could not hear of our arrival. We were all mounted on swift horses, besides having a thorough knowledge of the country, it being determined to abandon the carriage after passing the city limits. Upon the arrival of the blow and the color of the sky, we all knew we must run. By the time the alarm could be given and horses saddled, we would have been on our way through Southern Maryland towards the Potomac River. To our great disappointment, however, the President was not at the station, and our government officials, Mr. Chase and Mr. Seward, were gone. We soon after that became convinced that we could not remain longer undiscovered, and that we must abandon our enterprise. Accordingly, a separation finally took place, and I never saw any of them again, except once, and that when I was on my way to Richmond to Canada.

Surratt then detailed a trip to Richmond to carry despatches, and return with some to Canada, and declared that the Confederate Government knew nothing of their plot of abduction. He then left Montreal and went to Canada.

I bought some New York papers, looking over them my eye, but in the following paragraph which I have never forgotten and don't think I ever will. It runs thus:

The assassin of Secretary Seward is said to be John H. Surratt, a notorious assassin of Southern Maryland. His name, with that of J. Wilkes Booth, will forever lead the infamous plot of assassins.

I could not believe my senses. I gazed upon my name, the letters of which seemed sometimes to grow as out of my eyes, and then to dwindle away, as nothing could be done for me to do with him.

"It is useless for you, Mr. Booth, to think that we will separate."

He then said: "I will confide my plans to you, but, before doing so I will make known to you the motives that actuate me.

In the course of my prison life, I have been a man, and many thousands of our men who the U. S. Government refuse to exchange. You know as well as I that the efforts have been made to bring about that much desired exchange. Aside from the great suffering they are compelled to undergo, we are sadly in want of them as soldiers. We cannot spare one man, whereas the United States is willing to let their own soldiers remain in prison because she has no use of the men. CHASEKA THURSDAY DEC. 29 1870.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The State Legislature meets at St. Paul, next Monday, in compliance with law and usage. Matters of unusual importance to the people of the State, will require the attention of the Legislature this winter. The election of U. S. Senator, Legislation in regard to the Railroad monopoly of the State, and the disposal of the 500,000 acre tract of land. Also local legislation in which our county is directly interested. We shall speak fully upon these questions in future issues.

TO THE EDITOR, VALLEY HERALD:

CHASEKA, MINN.,

SIR:—In answer to your "venturous" explanations of the statement by me made, in your issue of the 24th ult., in which you don't pretend to be posted in legal matters but state, I presume, on information of others that the Justice had a right to do what it was. It's duty to admit the Party, young though it is, to the ballot; and that as to the sanctity of the ballot the magistrate has the sole judge and, Allow me to say that, had the Dept. offered ballot while he was before the magistrate your explanation would be undoubtedly correct; and it is believed that Section 17, to which you referred, only applies to persons while they are before a Judge or Registrar for a marriage, but not after such person is committed. And I am still convinced as strong as ever you explanations notwithstanding, that when a party has had its examination and then there fails to offer ballot, the offence being ballot, and is therefore considered illegal, and at any time thereafter is desirous of giving ballot, such party must proceed according to Section 31 of chapter 1-6 by me in my statement referred to. Now your explanation is nothing more nor less than a difference of opinion between yours and mine. Every person is entitled to his opinion, and had you been the examining magistrate in the case, your opinion would certainly have been of considerable weight, as it is however, I can not see where the weight can come in unless it is that my opinion by which I was led to adopt the course I did in the premises, was grossly erroneous as to justify you or rather, your legal adviser, who by the way would like to be County Attorney, to arraign me before the public for malfeasance in office which was, undoubtedly your intention, but which you, nor your legal adviser, had the moral courage of doing in an outspoken manner. All men are liable to make mistakes. The rest of you, I dare say, in my opinion it is nothing very great to be wondered at. But before you have a right as a journal to this issue, even that I have done wrong, you must be able to show a wrong intention in some way or other on my part; and then it is your right, may even your duty, to strangle me and point out the wrong. I do not care who must do it manfully, in an open and outspoken manner, so that nobody can have any doubt about it, but not like an assassin who would like to put some body out of his way, when he has not got the moral courage to do it openly.

I have sworn to "faithfully and impartially" discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability, and favoritism is therefore by me disregarded even at the discomfiture or displeasure of your "honorable" self or legal adviser.

Yours truly,

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

We do not understand what Mr. Weinmann means when he talks about legal advisers, assassins and candidates for County Attorney. That is all "Greek" to us.—No other officer or Attorney connected with the Hecklin case seems to have felt the necessity of rushing in to print for self protection, and we therefore thought proper to make the explanation we did. We write for the people and now for office seekers. We cannot imagine what has incited Mr. Weinmann to so violent an outburst of vituperation, but be it what it may, it certainly comes with ill grace from a dignified County official.

War News

The war news sent over the cable now is very slim, but then it is generally admitted that the war itself, so far as active operations is concerned, has grown to be comparatively dull, and the situations of the combatants does not materially change.

STATEMENT OF AUCTION SALE

Our enterprising county auctioneer, Mr. C. J. Sorenson of Dahlgreen, informs us, that he has conducted 19 auction sales since March 1st, of which five were merchandise, and fourteen live stock, farming implements, household furniture and personal property, amounting in the aggregate to the following sums, total: Merchandise $860.00, Live Stock $7,880.00, Total $8,740. Mr. Sorenson is an active gentleman, reliable in every particular and we can recommend him to the public with our reserve. We shall next week publish Mr. S., card.

CORRESPONDENCE.—We received last week, a communication from Waterford, very interesting in nature, but too late for insertion, being received on the day of publication. We hope our Waterford correspondent will favor our readers with a weekly letter, commencing with the next number of the HERALD.

TAX NOTICE.—We publish this week the annual tax notice of the County Treasurer. It will be seen that he visits the different towns of the County the coming month.

NEW YEAR'S BALL.—The first ball for the year 1871, will be given by Peter Iris, at his Hotel, on Jan. 1st. Peter has prepared good music, and a good time is anticipated. The ticket is cheap, only $1.00. Come one, come all, and have a jolly good time.

Judge Sargent will have editorial charge of the HERALD for the next two months—during the absence of the editor on business connected with his official position as Superintendent of the Common Schools of the County. The Judge is an able and ready writer, and will without doubt, fill the bill in every particular.

FISH CURIOSITY.—We are indebted to Mr. Ole Rend, of San Francisco, for the beak of a fish called the "Shorehead Sturgeon," caught by him in a small lake near his place. The head has a long flat shovel attached some ten inches in length, and about two inches in width. It is quite an object to look at, for persons who never saw one before.

NOTICE.—Owing to the Holidays, the HERALD appears this week, a little short of its usual amount of reading matter.

WELL REPRESENTED.—Chaska was well represented at the Theatrical performance at Young America, on Christmas. We understand they had a fine time.

WOOD! WOOD!—Wood will be received at the HERALD office in payment for subscription and job work. Those in arrears will please pay up at once.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.—The musical entertainment by the Rev. Mr. Smith and family on next Friday evening, to-morrow evening, will be given at the Court House Hall. We are assured that the affair will be a rare treat and that a good house is expected.

CHRISTMAS TREES.—The Sabbath School entertainment at the Moravian Church on Christmas Eve, was a brilliant success. The tree was not only well laden with bon-bons, but the church was most beautifully decorated. It will long be remembered by the little ones.

PERSONAL.—Senator Baxter will leave for St. Paul, on Saturday to attend to his duty in the Legislature this winter. The Col. will room at the Merchants Hotel, where he will be happy to see his constituents this winter.

Mr. Flook will also probably room at the Merchants.

DULL.—Owing to the bad state of the roads, trade is very dull. Sleighing will materially improve things in general.

The name of Chief Justice McLean is used at Washington in connection with the governorship of Utah, without his authority. He is not and will not be a candidate.

ALPHABET ORTHOPHY.—Johnson Jones, has lately given to the public, a little work, under above title. It is intended to impart the knowledge of the elemental sounds of letters. This branch of primary study has been neglected in our school until within a recent date. Mr. Jones' work is the best we have seen on the subject, and so simple, as to be within the comprehension of the youngest readers.

Correspondence.

SICKNESS.—Never before, during our residence in Carver County now 12 years, have we seen so much sickness, as at the present time. The prevailing diseases being, Typhoid and Scarlet Fever. During the time that Dr. Lewis has been in Carver, now about four months, he has been kept continually on the go, and as he remarked—had scarcely had leisure time to make the acquaintance of his family.

GOOD TIME.—The young folks of Carver had a jolly good time on Monday evening, at the Basler, from 8 o'clock p. m. to 8 a. m. Charlie is a good place to have a good time.

CHRISTMAS TREE.—The Christmas tree at the Methodist Church on Saturday evening, was a perfect success. The church was jammed full of little people, and big people. The tree was really beautiful, it was loaded with good things for the children, and well lit. Cakes, pies, candies, nuts &c. in abundance. Great credit is due to Geo. B. Holmes, Sup't. of the Sabbath School for taking hold of the matter in earnest, and making it a success. Geo. worked hard, and had his reward in seeing his little flock of about 125 children, enjoying themselves so nicely on that evening. He takes great interest in the Sabbath School, and is in earnest about his work. Long may he live to superintend.

We must not forget to give the ladies credit, for what they did, all worked hard and earnestly, to render things pleasant and agreeable to all. Long will this good time be remembered by the Sabbath School Children of Carver.

PERSONAL.—We were called upon by many good friends from the interior of the County, last week, among whom was the "Mill man" of Benton, Casper Kroenckshank, and Leonard Streukens, who dimensions "mail matter" at that point. Mr. Nigher of Wacouta, also called, F. P. Du Toit of the "Herald" accompanied by E. N. Touey of Chaska were about on Monday.

Alex. Lee of Glenco, is stopping at the Plasters. Mr. L. is under treatment for heart disease by Dr. Lewis.

FREE.—There is a free bridge across the Minnesota River at this point now. Teams commenced crossing on Friday last. L. H. Griffin being the first.

HEARD FROM.—C. A. Lamps and Wm. B. Mohler, well known Steam Boat men have turned up in Saint Paul. We wish them success in their new field of labor.

REV. MR. SAVAGE.—The above named gentleman with his family will soon take up his residence in Carver. He has secured 4 rooms in Zangers Block adjoining Mr. Habeisen. We understand he will preach in the Methodist Church every 2 weeks. Mr. Savage is well spoken of by those who know him, and he will have a popular acquisition to Carver.

CHRISTMAS.—This day was July observed by all our citizens. It was intensely cold, and too little snow on the ground to celebrate out doors, consequently our town presented rather dull appearance on Monday. Religious services were held in all the Churches in town on Sunday and Monday.

—Each assistant editor, reporter, composer and pressman of the Detroit Free Press, received from the proprietor a fine Christmas turkey; and the newsboys and carriers each received suitable presents. In all 212 persons were thus remembered.

CHRISTMAS TREES.—The Sabbath School entertainment at the Moravian Church on Christmas Eve, was a brilliant success. The tree was not only well laden with bon-bons, but the church was most beautifully decorated. It will long be remembered by the little ones.

PERSONAL.—Senator Baxter will leave for St. Paul, on Saturday to attend to his duty in the Legislature this winter. The Col. will room at the Merchants Hotel, where he will be happy to see his constituents this winter.

Mr. Flook will also probably room at the Merchants.

LABOR.—Labor is capital. Be slow good health upon a man, so that he can labor every six out of seven days, and no matter how poor he may have to be, he will be certain to accumulate a fortune, provided he takes care of his earnings. Plantation Bitters are the best, and most comfortable, and to preserve the health of the heart. From four to six hours is considered the ordinary time for heart work. At the expiration of this time, the heart is fatigued, so that the man becomes irritable and nervous. If he is poor, and continues on at his task, as most men do, he will be fatigued, and will not be certain to shorten his days, and unless he uses Plantation Bitters, which speedily restore the heart, energy, repairs his heart, and corrects the sluggish circulation of his blood.

SEA MOSS PAREINE from pure Irish Moss, for Blane, Mange, Puddings, Custards, Creams, &c. The cheapest, healthiest, and most delicious food in the world.

BITTERS

FOR

Dyspepsia, Indigestion,

Liver Complaint,

Acidity of Stomach, Loss of Appetite.

And

General Debility.

These bitters are warranted to be manufactured with the purest materials, (no forty-rod Whisky, if you please,) and one trial is all that is necessary to convince any one that they are superior to all other preparations of the kind in use. Try them.

SELLING OUT.

In consequence of hard times and non collection of outstanding debts, and slow sale of Goods, I have determined to sell out at cost, and engage in some other business. I now therefore ask all who know themselves indebted to me to settle upon or before the first day of May next. If they do not the Sheriff and Lawyer will have something to do.
